cred. We saw the other day what the attraction NAVAL OFFICERS HONORED. as that drew them together, how they were both the enemies of refinement, the champions of those traits of character to which refinement is most oppesed. I don't know whether Mr. Godkin's name is borne on the muster rolls of the Salvation Army, nor what his rank is, nor whether I ought to refer to him as "Major" Godkin. But he will not care about that. It is enough for this great and good man to be engaged with the other great and good man in preaching the Religion of Vulgarity. ould, perhaps, call him the Booth of America, or of Irish America, unless it were better to call Booth the Godkin of England.

No doubt you are asking, the Civilized World is asking, why does Mr. General Booth go abroad? He has told us in "The War Cry" he is going to see things for himself, and to be seen. What has been imported to him of these distant countries but whetted his curiosity. What they have heard of him has whetted theirs. It is well that Mr. Booth should behold the other side of this terrestrial globe, and that the other side of this terestrial globe should behold Mr. Booth. He has heard with joy of his soldiers' "levalty to The Army, to God. to the War and to the General." Perhaps you will notice the order in which they mentioned. But he is going as a David, and to duly estimate little David's pluck and skill you should have measured Goliath from Top to So that is why he is going, to measure Goliath frop top to toe. He is going to Explain the Army also. He thinks the Army may be faisunderstood in the Southern Hemisphere. There has been coldness and suspicion; these he desires to dispel. Like Paul, he wishes to impart unto the heathen his own spiritual gifts. Paul, it appears, told the "Roman Salvationists" that he had some such object. This is interesting, and would have been more interesting had Mr. Booth quoted the passage in the New Testament in which the Roman Salvationists are mentioned.

Mr. Booth's ends are, he tells us, " precious and His absence, moreover, is to be the occasion for a great Salvation War at home. Officers and soldiers are to be busier than ever in recruiting, and lest mere zeal fail them, the name of every Corps and of the Captain and Lieutenant in charge of the same, is to be inscribed on a Roll to be presented at the great gathering of our comrades who will greet me, if spared, on my return home in February next." Nor is that all. There is one other advance I fasist must be made while I am away. The circulation of The Dear Old War Cry must be pushed up to the goal I have so long desired for it, 350,000!" I seem to hear an echo of that cry from New-York and the Eminent Emigrant calling out that he too illisists that the circulation of The Dear Old Evening Post must be pushed up to the goal he has so long desired for it-say 10,000. It is well to aim high. G. W. S.

TRIBUNE FRESH-AIR FUND.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.
Previously acknowledged	,121 68
Clarksburg, W Va	5 00
M W Careon	10 00
that and Tableau by the voung ladies at the
"Wawbeek," Cliff Farm, Ellenville, N. J	85 12
Mrs. A. L. Titus	5 00
"In Memory of George Burnham Stinson"	50 00
Mrs. W. L. Wellington, Brooklyn.	5 00
Malcoin, Morgan and Edwin	3 00
Marina and Esther	25 (00)
J. De L	25 00
J. De 12	5 00
C. P. S	3 60
F. C. S
C. A. M	25 00
A. P. M	10 00
Effe Knox Huntington, a penny saved each day for the fund	4 00
"In Memory of our Baby"	5 00
J. L. Vosburg	5 00
M. G. W., A. S. W. and E. D. W., three happy girls	75.00
M. R.	12 00
Money raised by Marian Ware, Mary Lewis and other little New-London, Conn., girls	13 20
F. L. Colwell	- 5 00
F. L. Cotwell	3 00
Zachie and Carrie, two little children	1 00

Total August 5, 1891 ..... This money has already been used in sending children to the country. The treasury is empty. STAMER GUESTS AID THE PUND the Editor of The Tribune. sir: Inclosed please find check for $85, to be added to The Tribune Fresh-Air Fund. This is the proceeds d a fair and tableaus held at "The Wawbeek," Cliff Farm, on the Shawangunk Mountains, on the evening of August 1. Great credit is due to the young ladle of the house, who conducted the affair, and who gave much time and labor for several weeks in its preparation. The tableaus were presented in an artistic manner, and were lightly appreciated by the audience, which consisted of the guests of the Wawbeek and many of the other summer solourners in the vicinity. Please acknowledge receipt of money through The Tribune.

E. C. SHERMAN. Cliff Farm, Ellenville, Ulster Co., N. Y., Aug. 4, 1891.

THE GRACIOUS GIFT OF INVALIDS.

To the Editor of The Tribune Sir: We send greeting and a draft for $242 for your grand charity, the Fresh-Air Fund. Two weeks ago to-day a few ladies in this institution were told that a gentleman would give $50 for the Fund if they would raise $100. Three of us went to work, and we send you the result. I wish the amount was much greater, but I can assure you the spirit is all right. My chambermaid heard what was being done, and came to me with $1 for the fund. I remonstrated with her, told her that she could not afford it, that half of it given with the kind spirit she possessed would be enough, but she said "No." At our last meeting the $50 gentleman proved to be E. D. Leffing-well, M. D., the president of this carporation. As a band of alling ones, we have remembered the suffering little ones, and have implicit faith that in your hands it will go where it will do the most good. E. W. Glen Springs Sanitarium, Watkins, N. V., Aug. 3, 1891.

A BALL AT THE WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

IT IS GIVEN IN HONOR OF MRS. ROGER A. PRYOR-GOVERNOR HILL SENDS A FLAG.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Aug. 5.-The Mary Washington ball given at the White Sulphur Springs to-day was the most brilliant affair that has occurred for many years at this gay watering place. The ball was given as a compliment to Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, and for the fund of the Mary Washington Monument Association, of which she is one of the vice-presidents. Through the courtesy of Governor Hill, an official fing of the State of New-York was sent to Mrs. Pryor, and the Governor of the State of Virginia sent the colors of the Old Dominion to blend with those of the

Mrs. Pryor led the opening march with ex-Govern Fitzhugh Lee. She was attired in a costume which was a faithful reproduction of that worn by Marv Washington at the "Yorktown Ball." The herchief, reticule and fan worn by Mrs. Pryor were lent to her by members of the Fredericksburg Monument Society and had been worn by ladies who had dance General Washington at the Fredericksburg ball.

Among those who participated in the affair Among those who participated in the affair were Mrs. Lee, Mrs. William Wirt Henry, the Misses Mary and Mildred Lee, Mrs. Carlisle, Miss Brown, Miss Pryor, Miss Langhorne, Miss Lee, Miss Gildersleeve, Mrs. Reinbart, Mrs. Knowles, Mrs. Wallace, the Misses Gordon, Judge and Mrs. Robertson, Judge and Mrs. Semmes, William Wirt Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Breckenridge Castleman, Miss Mand Lee Davidge, Judge and Mrs. Van Wyck and Miss Van Wyck.

SIR ALFRED MOLONEY'S NEW POST.

Fir Alfred Moloney, K. C. M. G., has been staying at the Windsor Hotel for several days. He is on his way to take charge of his new appointment as Governor of British Hondums. He is accompanied by Lady Moloney, his children and his private secretary, W. Sir Alfred will start from New-York in time to catch the boat at New-Orleans on August 13 for Belize. He said to a Tribune reporter that h had never been in America before, although as a young man he had been stationed in the Bahamas, and me a great many Americans. For eighteen years he ha been on the west coast of Africa, in the capacity of Governor of Lagos and of Gambia. His new place is in the nature of a promotion. Before leaving London for his new post a complimentary dinner was given him, which was largely attended by people interested in benevolent and bifsiness projects connected with the west coast of Africa.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE WINDSOR THEATRE. The season at the Windsor Theatre will open or Monday night with "Rose Michel," J. B. Sindley and Miss Henrietta Vaders appearing in the cast. Extensive improvements have been made in the house since the close of just season. In the auditorium are bbbies, new carpets have been laid and the decora-Hons have been changed and renewed and freshened The general effect is to lighten and brighten the house. A new act drop, which will be placed in position before the opening, will assist this parpose materially. It is painted by Macder and Schaffer. The body of the curtain is light pink and in the middle is a medallion with two female figures representing Literature and Art. At the sides are crimson hangings and at the bottom a heavy gold fringe. An entirely new stage has been built and it is equipped with all the newest appliances, including some of sorts that were not in use at the time the old one was constructed.

A BREAKFAST GIVEN BY THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

SPEECHES BY ADMIRAL WALKER CHARLES S. SMITH, ABRAM S. HEWITT AND OTHERS.

The officers of the United States Squadron of Evolution were entertained at breakfast yesterday by the Executive Committee of the New-York Chamber of clad fleet entering New-York Harbor to levy tribute. Commerce in the rooms of the Lawyers' Clab, on the their guns would naturally be turned first upon the of the insurance company, on the second floor, and at 12:45 o'clock proceeded to the banquet room, led ject, and he, therefore, called upon J. W. Alexander merce, and Rear-Admiral J. G. Walker. The officers formality. A few banks of roses were arranged along fact that somehow or other they were associated in his the tables, and there was no music. Two tables ex- | mind with cold water. tended along the room and the table of honor was the others.

Mr. Smith presided at this table. At his right sat Captain J. C. Wiltse, of the Boston. On his left William R. Grace, and Captain Silas Casey, of the Newark. The other members of the Chamber of Commerce present were Henry Hentz. C. N. Rilss, Woodbury Langdon, S. D. Babcock, J. E. Simmons, F. R. Thurber, A. Foster Higgins, J. B. Colgate, August Belmont, J. P. Morgan, Gustav H. Schwab, J. H. Inman, Isidor Straus, William H. T. Hughes, J. J. Knox, ex-Secretary of the Treasury C. S. Fairchild, John H. Rhoades, William Brookfield, William H. Lyon, Ambrose Snow, S. H. Seaman, William H. Lyon, Ambrose Snow, S. H. Seaman, William B. Kendall, Hugh N. Camp, O. B. Potter, R. T. iam B. Kendall, Hugh N. Camp, O. B. Potter, R. T. Birdseye Blakeman, General Louis Fitzgeruld, J. D. ters like this in connection with National adalrs, the Crimmins, and Jesse Seligman. The officers of the seem to have a sort of prejudice. Phillip, of the Atlanta, Medical Inspector T. C. Walters, of the Chicago; Commander O. A. Batcheller, of the Concord; Commander R. D. Evans, of the Yorktown; Chief-Engineer R. B. Hine, of the Concord; Paymaster Edwin Putnam, of the Atlanta; Surgeon George A. Bright, of the Newark; Paymaster G. Hobbs, of the Boston; Lieutenant-Commander W. T. Swinburne, of the Boston; Lieutenant H. G. O. Colby, of the Yorktown; Lieutenant J. E. Pillsbury, of the Newark; Lieutenant R. P. Rodgers, of the Chicago; Lieutenant Seaton Schroeder, of suvius; Lieutenant H. E. Niles, of the Atlanta; Lieutenant B. H. Buckingham, fleet ordnance officer; Lieutenant J. B. Briggs, of the Concord; Lieutenant . A. Staunton, flag lieutenant; Captain G. C. Reid, United States Marine Corps, of the Chicago; Lieutenant Lucien Young, of the Boston; Past Assistant Paymaster C. W. Littlefield, of the Yorktown, and Lieutenant C. McR. Winslow, commanding the Cushing, and James W. Alexander and Lieutenant-Commander J. W. Miller, of the Naval Reserve.

Shortly before 3 o'clock President Smith arose and said :

Gentlemen: You will be pleased to learn that I have been requested by the committee of arrangements to an-nounce that your digestion will not be disturbed by formal speechmaking, but I should fall in my duty and be unrthy of the honor of presiding upon this occasion if I did not, as briefly as possible, voice the sentiments of this representative gathering of the business men of New-York. and say to Admiral Walker and to his corps of officer who honor us with their presence, that we welcome them to this table with all the warmth and cordiality that words While we take a pardonable pride in the can express. While we take a White Squadron, the cordiality of entimental, for we recognize in our guests a body of men who, should the emergency arise, will know how to defend and protect the enormous interests which cluster around the harbor of New-York.

The long delay since the advent of steel ships in the re n of our Navy has been a reproach to our cou try. Happily now Mr. Blaine and his successors in office write their dispatches with the belief that belief pen is a growing naval power which will be able to su tain the just demands of the United States dealing with foreign nations. And, gentlemen, nation like ours, with a coast washed nation like ours, with a coast washed two mighty oceans, should cease to claim the privilege writing "Great" before its name if it be unable or un-willing to build and support a navy that would be an honor to the Nation and adequately protect its seaboard. And further, I claim that we cannot pretend to be either great or independent unless we can upon our own soil manufacture our own guns and ammunition, including smokeles waer. It is highly improbable that we shall ever have an invasion of our territory by a hostile army. Our future wars will be naval, and our guests will be the heroes. Bulver in his drama placed in the mouth of Cardinal Richelieu the famous phrase, "I have recreated France." For the energy and action which recreated the American Navy and debted to intelligent members of Congress, like our friend Mr. Hewitt, largely to our fellow-citizen, the late Secretary of the Navy Whitney, but principally to the science and skill of Admiral Walker and his associates. Gentlemen, let r ask you to fill your glasses and drink to the health of Admiral Walker, to his corps of gallant officers, and success the White Squadron. (Applause and cheers.) All arose and drank to the health of the Commandant of the Squadron. When they resumed their seats, Admiral Walker said:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Chamber of Con or New-York.

It is quite impossible for me to express my thanks for myself or for the officers of the squadron I have the honor to command, and, indeed, I may say, for the entire Navy or the United States, because the whole Navy is interested in this event. We are at the beginning of an era which marks the construction of our Navy. We have made fair progres during the period which has clapsed since the work wa undertaken, but we have a leng read to travel yet before a shall have secured a navy with which a country like our should be satisfied. We are, I am glad to say, makin good progress. (Alphause.) All that we want is the au thority to build, the money to pay for the ships and the therity to build, the meney to pay for the ships and the men and officers to man the ships when they are affect. The money well, I trust, come from Congress. We have the ability to build the ships. During the last few weeks we have been operating in conjunction with the Naval Reserve. I have found the work most interesting, and believe that urganization will be a beneficial and valuable adjunct to the Navy of our country. (Applause.)

If a war should suddenly break cut in which the United

It a war should society break ed in which the Children sould become involved, the great question would be the manning of the ships. At present we have no way of manning our ships except to pick the crews up here and there from the merchant marine. This organization known as the Naval Reserve is a long step in the right direction. and I hope within five years to see twenty thousand me drawn together in this force along the Atlantic Coast (Applause.) It is possible for this to be done in a great maritime country such as this, and, moreover, it is necessary. The great fleets of armored ships of foreign power could lay the principal scaports on our coast under tribu at any time. A fleet of this kind could enter the harbor New York and demand that $100,000,000 should be place on board, with the alternative that the city should be reduced; and all that New-York would have to do would be to turn the money ever. You would simply have to pocket the insult, and the feet would pocket the money ontribution. (Laughter.)

contribution. (Laugher.)

I am not prepared to make a speech to-day, but I wan to thank you mest sine-rely for your similarse to-day, and for the great bonor you have paid to the United State-Cavy, to the Squadron, and to myself as its commanding officer. (Applause,) Mr. Smith said that while no system of toast had been arranged and it was not intended to have any general speechmaking, he would call upon ex-Mayor Hewitt, a former member of the Naval Committee of the House of Representatives, to say a fev Those present drank to the health of Mr words. Hewitt and cheered him heartily. He spoke as fol

Mr. President: The Admiral has told us that if a foreign squadron should come here and demand $100,000 000 should have no recourse but to pay the money. But should have no reconstruction and an arrangement of the fact that the party represented by some of m friends here have emptied the Treasury I do not know the stop of the stop of the from the stop of building a navy at enormous cost when we could simple draw our check for the amount and hand it over to the (Laughter.) But we have begun the buildie of a navy now, and there is nothing left but to go on wit the work. I have no hesitation in saying that the Den ratio-party, out of which I have been kicked ignominious (laughter), will meet any demands made by Admit Walker and the Chamber of Commerce for a navy so is we would like to see and the world would be bou to respect. It is possible the party may go back on m to respect. It is possible the party may go back on mopiedges; it has done it before. (Laughter.)

There are good reasons why the Navy should have been allowed to fall temporarily into decay. We had developed certain new principles during our war. To further develop them entailed enormous expenditures. Europe took up the problem. As soon as the experience there showed us how to go to work we began. The work of reconstruction was therefore undertaken at the earliest practicable moment; and I am sure we now have the mechanical the professional and the technical experie. Frequired to produce the very hess results. I have myself noped that something e very best results. I have myself noped that some would happen to render it unnecessary to build great ire clads such as are found in European fleets. They have power of consumption as well as of destruction which almost incredible. I hope for the perfection of instrumen of destruction to be operated from the shore, such as the torpede and the dynamite shell. However, if this is impracticable, and in the judgment of Admiral Walker and others who are engaged in the reconstruction of the Navy it becomes necessary to build these great armored ships. I shall be as ready as any one to tax the people to that end, though I believe in reducing taxation to the minimum. (Applause.)

Mr. Hewitt closed his address with a hearty as surance of cordial welcome to the men composing the United States Navy whenever they should find themselves in the harbor of New-York. (Applause.)

With the suggestion that in the event of an iron-Commerce in the rooms of the Lawyers' Club, on the their guns would naturally be turned first upon the third floor of the Equitable Building. The guests Equitable Building, Mr. Smith thought it would be were received by their hosts in the directors' room proper for some representative of that structure to have an opportunity to say a few words on the sub by Charles S. Smith, president of the Chamber of Com- Mr. Alexander responded with a pleasant and witty address, introducing two or three humorous anecdotes were in undress uniform and their hosts were their illustrating by the deductions how little he knew, or customary business suits. There was no attempt at pretended to know, about naval matters, beyond the

the others.

The room and the table of honor was should speak as a representative of the merchants of the others. I think every American lad is imbued by his ed-Mr. Smith presided at this table. At his right sat Admiral Walker, ex-Mayor Abram 8. Hewitt and captain J. C. Wiltse, of the Boston. On his left were Captain J. N. Miller, of the Chicago, ex-Mayor William R. Grace, and Captain Slas Casey, of the Second T. The other washers. On the Second Transition of the American Nation to subsidies for building up our merchant marine as Wilson, William L. Strong, M. C. D. Borden, George C. Magoun, Joel B. Erhardt, H. W. Cannon, W. H. Starbuck, J. H. Schiff, C. A. Andrews, J. G. Cannon, C. W. Bowen, O. M. Harper, General A. C. Barnes, things of more contracted interest, when it comes to matsquadron at the other tables were: Captain J. W. to have a Navy, but we have got to have a naval militia to

But, by jingo, if we do, We've got the men, we've got the right,

And got the money too." (Applause.) Lieutenani-Commander J. W. Miller responde for the Naval Reserve. He said he had been impressed by the fact that New-York, with all its great weaith, was entirely unprotected from the fleet of a foreign enemy. He had asked himself why the Navy of the United States did not have between it and the people some such organization as that which stood between the Army and the populace in the shape of a militia. The first object of attack by a foreign foe would be New-York. The approach would not be by land, but by sea, through Long Island Sound or the Harbor. There were many citizens of New-York devoting their summers to pastimes on the water. These could easily become skilled in the duties pertaining to marine warfare in coast defence. The Naval Reserve should consist of a Naval militia, a State organization or the protection of New-York Harbor. These would be an adjunct of the Naval service. They should be taught to fire gnus; they should be instructed respecting the commissary department. In time there would grow up a National Naval Reserve, embracing the Coast Survey Department, the Lighthouse Boards and other anxillary resources of the Government.

When Lieutenant-Commander Miller finished his address President Smith announced the adjournment of the assemblage. great wealth, was entirely unprotected from the

TRYING FOR HONORS IN TENNIS.

THE TOURNAMENT OF THE COOPERSTOWN ATH-LETIC ASSOCIATION.

Cooperstown, N. Y., Aug. 5 (Special).-The ter tournament on the grounds of the Athletic Association opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the preliminary cound, men's doubles, J. P. Browning and Averill Carter beat G. Hyde Clarke and Archibald Pell, 6-2 6-1. First round-Denne Miller and M. R. Wright beat E. A. Thomson and A. E. Wright, 6-1, 6-4; . S. Cushman, Jr., and B. G. Braine beat Templ Emmet and Richard Emmet, 6-2, 6-2; George North ngton and R. R. Perkins beat M. R. Wrightman and Farles, 6-1, 6-2; J. P. Browning and Averill arter beat H. G. Sill and R. C. Van Wagener, 6-3. Second round-Deane Miller and M. R. beat J. S. Cushman and B. G. Braine, 6-2, 6-2, Men's singles, preliminary round—Deane Miller heat Devereux Emmet, 6-0, 6-3. First round—George Worthington heat R. Farges, 6-0, 6-1.

THE TOURNAMENT AT NAHANT.

Nabent, Mass., Aug. 5 (Special).-The second day's play the Nabant tournament puts Hobart, Campbell and untington in the lead. Hobart continued his good play d thus far has not lost a match. Campbell and Huntof Compbell. In the first match of the day Hob rom Chase, but the Chicago man gave his opponent plenty o do. Both sets were hard fought. Campbell played etter tennis in his match with F. H. Hovey, and worked his old tactics of running to the net at every oppor-tunity. Hovey swashed well in the first set, but seemed to fall off toward the end. Sears surprised his friends by easily winning the first set of his match with Honars. Sears passed his opponent many times, and it was only by the most actioned play that Hohart finally won. only by Me most agno bet play that Hobert finally won, Summary: Third drawings—Clarence Hobert beat S. T. Chase, 6-4, 10-8; O. S. Campbell beat F. H. Hovey, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2; R. P. Hunthorton beat P. S. Sente, 6-3, 5-3. Fourth drawings—Campbell beat Chase, 6-4, 6-5, 6-3; Hobert beat Sears, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

The following is the analysis of the match between Camp bell and Hovey: Piaced balls-Campbell 27, Hovey 23 Aces won on opponent's outs-Campbell 27. Hover 25. Aces won on opponent's nets-Campbell 38, Hover 32 Double faults-Campbell 4. Total points won-Campbel 22. Hovey 84. The comparative standing of the players to-night is as follows: Hobart, won 4 matches, lost 0 amphell, won 3, lost 1; Huntlerton, won 2 lost 1; Hovey

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

Reports have been published lately giving the im pression that a charge of embezzlement has been made by Herrmann, the magician, against Wolf Falk, receiver for the "U and 1" Company. This is not accurate. Mr. Falk was appointed receiver by the court in San Francisco a few months ago and when the case was Francisco a few mounts and an war and make an decided it devolved on him to appear and make an accounting. He did not appear, except by counsel, and the accounts that were shown did not satisfy the court. An indictment was therefore secured against him and requisition papers were sent to this city.

Rudolph Aronson is returning home on the Touraine. which is due here on saturday. He has visited Lor ion, Paris, Vienna and Rayreuth. The female orhestra from Vienna, engaged to appear in "Indigo, will arrive in the early part of next week. To-morrow night the 125th performance of "The Grand Duchess" will be made an occasion of interest. Con-fections and ices and an attractive little souvenir will be provided.

It is reported that Miss Maude Harrison, of A. M. Palmer's company, is to be married in November to Edward Bell, of the same company. Miss Harrison is now abroad.

W. W. Furst has been announced as the musical director for "Miss Helyett," which is soon to be preented at the Star Theatre. Mr. Furst was previously named to direct the music for Miss Fanny Daven-ort's production of "Cleopatra" for next season, and c his been informed that he will be expected to keep

There will be special features in the fireworks and ther attractions incidental to "Paris from the Empire o the Commune" at Manhattan Beach this evening. The performances have been omitted on several nights lately, on account of bad weather, and an especially interesting one is promised for to night.

"Nat" Roth sails on the Columbia this morning. He is going to England to get Miss Loie Fuller's signature to a contract, by which she is to play in this country next season in support of Louis Delange.

Fred Solomon, who is playing Edwin Stevens's part in "The Grand Duchess," at the Casino, received a dispatch from London at the close of the performance Tuesday night, announting the death of his mother. His father, who was a musician, died a year ago.

A QUIET DAY AT CAPE MAY.

Cape May, Aug. 5 (Specials.—The President to-day passed the greater part of his time in looking over his prrespondence. He signed the commission of James W. Hine as Consul to Ambershurg., Ont., and those of two postmasters, one in Idaho and the other in Call-Among the callers to-day were Civil Service commissioner A. D. Lyman and Colonel A. Loudon snowden, United States Minister to Rumania, Servia and Greece. Colonel snowden will dine with the President to-morrow

MR. AND MRS. HOOKER'S GOLDEN WEDDING. Hariford, Conn., Aug. 5.—The golden wedding re-eption of John and Isabella Beecher Hooker was given to-day at the City Mission Rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Hooker received scated on a raised platform, Prominent among those present were senator and Mrs.

Hawley, William M. Fyarts and Miss Evarts, William Lloyd Garrison, John Hutchiussin, Dr. Edward Beecher and State from 1857 to 1852. traped with evergreens. The building was thronned.

and Mrs. Beecher, the lev. Thomas K. Beecher, the Bev. Charles E. Stowe, Miss Grace King, Lynde Harrison and Mrs. Harrison, and Susan B. Anthony. There were several representatives of the World's Columbian Commission, of which Mrs. Hooker is a member. Among the features of the occasion were singing by a quartette, a number of old-time song-by Mr. Hutchinson, the presentation by the Equal Rights Cinb, of this city, of a bride's loaf, covered with gold dollars, to Mrs. Hooker, and the singing of a couple of old-fashioned hymns by the assembled com-pany. The exercises ended with remarks and a prayer by the venerable Dr. Edward Beecher.

WEDDINGS

An interesting wedding took place yesterday morn ing at the parsonage of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church in this city. The Rev. Fields Hermance officiated and only a few relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present. The happy couple were the Rev. William P. Townsend, paster of the Methodist Church at Everittstown, N. J., and Miss A. Eugenia Fogg, daugister of Henry J. Fogg, formerly of Showhegan, Me. Mr. Townsend was for several years connected with "The New-York Observer," but he resigned his place in May last to accept a call to the

In early life by had a strong dealer to become an ctor and devoted some time to the study of that profession, but he took up the study of the ministry and he is now one of the most popular preachers of Western New-Jersey, where he is familiarly known as the young man who "stepped from the stage to the He was born in New-York City twenty-five

Philadelphia, Aug. 5 .- A dispatch to "The Ledger" from Langhorne, Penn., says: Dr. Harry Crookshank, director-general of prisons in Egypt, was married to day to Miss Emma Walraven Comfort, of New-York, a daughter of Major Samuel Comfort, of the Standard The ceremony was performed at Beechwood, the residence of Dr. Henry Y. Pickering an uncle of the bride, by the Rev. A. C. E. Westmacott, rector of St. Luke's Church, Newtown. Dr Crookshank, although a Pacha, is an Englishman by birth and education. His father was an English general who was killed in the Indian service. While vet a medical student Dr. Crookshank became attached to the medical corps of the German Army. In 1883. when the cholers was raging in Egypt, Dr. Crookshan went to Cairo; he attracted the personal attention of the Khedive, who created him a pacha and made him director-general of prisons.

The bride received several costly and beautiful presents, but the principal one came from the Khedive. It is a magnificent necklace, an exact copy of the one that was worn by Queen Aak Hotep, in the eighteenth dynasty, which began in 1703, B. C. The stones were taken from the tombs of Egyptian princesses. Dr. and Mrs. Crookshank will pay a brief visit to Washington and expect to sail on Saturday in the Eturus.

AN AIRSHIP IN A THEATRE.

THE MACHINE FLIES, BUT NOBODY RIDES ON IT BECAUSE IT'S ONLY A MODEL.

A private exhibition of a model of the Pennington airship, or "aerial machine," as it is described on the bills, was given yesterday afternoon at the Academy of siderable public notice in the West, from the fact that models have been exhibited in several Western citi and a company has been incorporated in Illinois "capitalized" at the trifling sum (for the West) $20,000,000 to build the ships and float them. It i the invention of E. J. Pennington and R. H. Butler, of Mount Carmel, Ill. Those who strolled into Academy vesterday at 4 p. m. found an inflated oil-silk cignr-shaped balloon 28 feet long and 8 feet in diameter in the centre, tapering down symmetrically to a foo at each end, anchored to four chairs on the stage by stout cords. A rudder, consisting of two pieces of is shapen canvas, one placed at right angles to the other, decorated one end of the balloon, and what looked like two canvas lacrosse sticks served as a propeller at the other end or bow. A small canvas model of a car for passengers was suspended from the centre, and a piece was resembling the dersal fin of a fish ran along the ridge or backbone of the ship."

"This great invention is not exhibited for speculative purposes," said J. D. Davis, aluminum manufacture and scientific expert of Denver, Col., whose function to answer questions regarding the airship to the spectators, "but it is done in the interest of the public that the people may be educated in aerostatics and meronautics."

When all was ready the "buoyancy chamber" wa fed with hydrogen gas from a tap in the Academy' pipe. It took 400 cubic feet to distend the balloon An electric wire connected a battery on the floor of the Academy with the propeller of the balloon, the anchor chains were cast loose, the current was turned on and the airship, looking like a swollen maste ington have each lost one match and are tied for the second place. The other men are scattered, as will be seen from the keeres. The features of the day's play were the conmen held on to the electric cord and saw that the family circle. The two blades of the propeller rotates slowly, the electric arrangement made a buzzing sound, the ship floated maje-tically, described circles, or dipper up and down at each end, and did equally remarkable things. Mr. Davis meanwhile described in scientific phrase that the principles in the construction of the invention were "bnovancy, screw, vacuum and ear plane." The model is being exhibited by Dr. W. C. Spence of Boston. He will exhibit it (beginning to-day) at the of Boston. He will exhibit it (beginning to-day) at the Academy for a week or ten days, open day and even ing, at 25 cents admission. Meanwhile Mr. Penning too, the inventor, is having two airships built at at Louis large enough to carry passengers and freight One is to be 150 long and is to be built of almatium Mr. Pavis told the reporters that Mr. Pennington has given him (Davis) "his word" that he would within a month sail through the air from St. Louis to this city in his aluminum ship with a party of friends on board

SECRETARY TRACY AT BAR HARBOR.

Bur Harbor, Aug. 5.—The Despatch left Northean Harbor this morning, having on board Secretary Tracy and son, Commodore Folger, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance; Seth Low, ex-Mayor of Brooklyn; Spence Trask, of New-York: Mrs. Soley, Mrs. Wilmerding and daughter, Mrs. J. V. L. Prnyn and daughter. Landing at Cranberry Isles they took on board Congressman outelle, chairman of the Committee on Naval Affair is daughters and Miss Stevens, of Bangor. The patch with the party arrived at Bar Harbor at clock. On arrival secretary Tracy was saluted with nIncteen guns from the flagship Philadelphia, and Admiral Gherardi and officers went on board to pay their respects. Subsequently Secretary Tracy, Commodors Fo'ger and Congression Bouncile visited and inspecte the flagship. On board the Philadelphia they ma Mrs. Blaine, Mrs. Damrosch and Miss Lyon, acconanied by senator Hale. The party funched on boar anied by senator Hale. The party funched on boar aniet begins of the flag-hip fired the usua ainte far the secretary of the Navy and seventeer mus each for senator this and Mr. Boutelle. secretary racy will probably remain two weeks.

WHAT MR. NOBLE SIFS ABOUT RESIGNING. Saranae Lake, N. Y., Aug. 5 (Special).-Secreta Noble says that he has not resigned and has no inten-tion of resigning. He is much aroused at the published reports about his ill-health. Evidently he never felt better in his life, and by makes frequent excursions of ten and twenty miles after trout.

GEORGE JONES'S CONDITION SERIOUS. Lewiston, Me., Aug. 5.—George Jones, proprietor o The New-York Times," had a bad night, and hi systeians to day say that his condition is dangerous is wife and daughter are with him at Poland springs

SIE LYON PLAYFAIR TO VISIT POSCON. Sir Lyon Playfair, accompanied by Luis Playfair are staying at the Windsor. They arrive on the jestic yesterday morning, and are on their way t Boston, where Lady Playlair, formerly Miss Russell fived for many years. One of Sir Lyon's companion on board the Majestic was Dr. W. Baldwin, of Flor ence, Italy. Sir Lyon said that Dr. Baldwin, though

American, was the most popular physician in

THE TUCATAN RETURNS DISABLED.

The steamship Yucatan, of the New York and Cuba Line, that left here on Saturday bound for Havana and Central American ports, returned here yesterday, her machinery having partially broken down on Sunday, when she was 250 miles from the Hook. She came slowly up the Bay and went to Robert's Docks, Brook lyn. The greater number of her twenty-three passengers were transferred to the same company's steamship Niagara, which was delayed and will start to-day Passengers for Yucatan will start by the Yumuri or saturday. The exact nature of the injury was no known last evening, but something had gone wrong in the forward cylinder, and men were busy taking it apart. It is hoped that the vessel will be able to start in a short time.

RICHARD KING STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS. Richard King, president of the Bank of Commerce. this city, is suffering from a stroke of paralysis home of his sister, Miss Cornella King, in Jamaica, L. I

THE YACHTS AT NEW-LONDON A START TO BE MADE FOR NEWPORT THIS

MORNING. RACES FOR THE OWL AND GAMECOCK,

A NAPHTHA LAUNCH BURNY-THE CHERRY DIAMOND REGATTA DECLARED OFF.

New-London, Cons., Aug. 5.—The yachts of the New-York Yacht Squadron have been resting quietly all thy here, many of them repairing damages resulting from the run of yesterday. The Gossoon came in this after-noon from Port Jefferson and reported that she put in there yesterday because of injuries to her starboard chain plates. One of the things talked of to-day, while the yachtsmen were comparing notes regarding the trash to windward of yesterday was the fine work done by Augustus Mott's schooner Magic, which fairly distinguished herself in the heavy work. The fleet this year assembled here cannot compare in number with that which last year came together under Commodure Geffy's flag in these waters. It is the general optoion that the experiment of making the place of annua endozvous at Glen Cove will not be repeated. Many of the Eastern yachts belonging to the club do not like west as Glen Cove simply to go so far west as Glen Cove simply for the purpose of sailing back here again. When the fleet reaches Newport, for which place a start will be made at 9 o'clock to-morrow, the number of yachts will be materially augmented. to go so far for there are many boats there waiting to join. At 1 o'clock to-day Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, lunched with Commodore Gerry on board the Electra-The Governor was accompanied by Colonel Peabody of his staff. When he came on board a gun was fired, and the State fing of Massachusetts fluttered out from the Electra's mainmast. The Governor is guest on the schooner yacht Oenone, Captain Hugh Cochrane.

In the afternoon the Owl and Gamecock colors were raced for. Five four-oared gigs started in the race for the Gamecock colors. They were from the Dauntless, Iroquois, Fleur-de-Lys, Portuna and Columbla. The course was two and a half miles and the race was won by the gig of the Dauntless, with that of the Iroquois second and Fortuna's third. In adof the frequency second and Forenass that. If all different to the colors, each man in the crew of the winning boat received a prize of $5. For the Owl colors the Columbia's boat had a walkover. The dingy race was a walkover for the Bedouin's boat. A naphtha launch race followed, in which the Electra's launch cave the others entered 15 minutes 10 seconds start. The other launches starting were from the Columbia, troquois, Sapphire, Haloyon and Fleur-de-Lys. The course was three miles. The race was won by the Columbia's launch, with the Sapphire's second and the lroquots's third. There is one less naphtha launch in the harbor to-night than there was yesterday, for the Golden Rod, a thirty-five foot naphtha launch belonging to W. Boerum, will sail the seas no more. Last night her owner went on board, and thought he smelled naphtha escaping. He lighted a match to see, and found that he was right, for the launch immediately took fire. A boat from the Constellation, which was just putting off from the Fort Griswold House, rati alongside the burning launch, and the sailors tried to save her by throwing water on the fire with their hats. It was no use, however, and the Golden Rod was towed to the rocks on shore, where she burned. she was a cabin launch, valued at $5,000. On board of her, was $5,000 worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Roerum; most of it was saved.

This morning the Philadelphia Yacht Club, cruising to the eastward under command of Commodors Edward Coleman, came into the harbor. The fleet consists of the yachts Norna, Lydla, Helen, Alice, Narounya and Arethusa. The schooner Rosslyn, Narounya and Arethusa. The schooners Intrepld and Constellation of the New-York fleet left here for Newport to-day, where they will rejoin the fleet. The cherry diamond regatta, which was sailed rather unsatisfactorily on July 25, was to-day declared off. It will be resalled at Newport on August 18. The Gloriana, Mineola, Sayonara, Ow-cue and Jessica are expected to start. Commodore Gerry has redeemed himself regarding the weather, and gave the fleet to-day some of his very best brew. It was as perfect a day as any one could wish, and Glen Cove, Hantington and this weather of yesterday are all forgiven and forgotten.

THE LAMP EXPLODED IN HIS PACE.

PLYING GLASS NEARLY CUT POLICEMAN FAR-LEY'S NOSE OFF, BUT HE HUNG TO HIS PRISONER.

The neighborhood of No. 38 Downing-st, was aroused hast night by an unusually lively fight. The combat-ants were Albert Fitzgerald, who keeps a candy store at No. 591 Greenwich-st., and Officer Farley, of the Charles-st. station, who was endeavoring to arrest him. The result of the struggle was that Fitzgerald of words in front of the house. The couple went upstairs to Mrs. Malley's apartments on the third floor of the tenement. Fitzgerald, who was under the influence of liquor, pounded on the locked door until he roused Mrs. Mailey from her bed. She came to the door and no sooner had she opened it than Fitzgerald took held of her, dragged her out into the hall and threatened to throw her out of the window.

Then Maggie and he went into the place and locked the door. Mrs. Malley hastened down stairs and told the housekeeper that Fitzgerald was killing Maggie. A policeman was sent for and Officer Farley responded. When he knocked at the door of the apartment Fitzgerald opened it with a curse and then picked up the lighted lamp which stood on the table and threw it at Parley. It struck him in the face and exploded. A piece of the glass chimney cut through the cartilage of his nose so that it hung by a thread. Blood streamed down he officer's face, but he grappled with Fitzgerald and brought him out into the hall. In the meantime the lames from the lamp spread to the carpet, and the Seighbors who had been watchplace was in a blaze. ing the struggle hastened with palls of water to quench he stames, and soon had them under control.

Farley started downstairs with his prisoner, wh appeared quiet enough, but on the second stairway Fitzgerald suddenly turned upon the policeman and attempted to throw him over the banisters. A terrific struggle ensued, in which Farley managed to scene his club and use it with effect. Officers Boyland, Jackson, Perkins and Gambel responded to a rapfor assistance, and an ambulance was summoned. Fitzgraid and the bleeding policeman were put in it and taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

The girl Margie was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, and the tenants of the house were told to hold themselves in readiness as witnesses.

MAKING A FIGHT FOR THE CITY.

AN UNEXPECTED DESCENT OF THE STATE AS-SESSORS. Messrs, J. D. Ellis, of Jefferson County, and S. N.

Wood, of Caitarangus County, of the State Board of Assessors, suddenly popped down at the Depart of Taxes yesterday and began work on the New-York City assessment valuations. No notice of the Asessors' coming preceded them and they expected perhaps that the New-York Tax Commissioners were un-

Commissioners, could have but one purpose, and the was to compel this city to bear the burden of taxat which rightfully belongs to the interior.

President Backer went further and dema in place of the usual increase this year against New-York of $100,000,000, a reduction should be made. York of $100,000,000, a reduction should be made, and the city pinced upon something near a footing with the other parts of the State. As the figures now stand the average assessment which the State places upon property outside of New York is 65 per cent of actual value, while it assesses New York property at fully 80 per cent. The State Assessors made little defence of their last year's work, and promised thoroughly to investigate the facts and figures laid before them by the New York Commissioners.

OBITUARY.

DANIEL ARBUCKLE.

Eikton, Md., Aug. 5.—Daniel Arbuekie, a well-known and prominent farmer residing at Cherry Hill, died suddenly last night of heart discuss. At one time he operated He removed to this county twenty years ago. Mr. Ar-buckle and his wife celebroted the fiftieth anniversary of sucrete and his wife electrons and instead and reversely of their marriage a few months ago. He was seventy-eight years of age and leaves a wife and four sons.

JAMES VALENTINE

James Valentine, one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of Woodbridge, N. J., died suddenly on Tuesday afterneon at the family homestead in that town. He was born in New-York in 1808, and settled in Woodbridge nearly fifty years ago. He was engaged in clay mining until a few years ago, when he retired. He leaves a widow and seven children, six some and one daughter. His sons are all prominent business men in Woodbridge.

THOMAS MARTIN. Oswego, N. Y., Aug. 5 .- Thomas Martin, a well-known vessel broker and owner, of this city, died suddenly at an early hour this morning.

THEY ARE NOT BLAMING SECRETARY FOSTER. The story published yesterday that the Grand Army men are finding fault with the Secretary of the Treasury the are induced the recent distribusis from the Customs service at this port is not true in so far as it applies to the Secretary of the Treasury. The men do feel atrongly against Colonel Erhardt for recommending their dismissal. Immediately after the list of names of those who were to go under Colonel Erhardt's recommendation had been made public General Floyd Clarkson looked over the list and saw the names of a number of Grand Army men. He then sat down and wrote a letter to both President Harrison and Secretary Foster, telling them that he did not think that this ought to be done. He sent the letters by the same mail. Soon after this he received replies from both the President and Mr. Foster. The President said that he would give the affair his immediate attention, and Mr. Foster said that he merely signed Mr. Erhardt's recom-mendations without knowledge as to whether or not the men were Democrats, Republicans or Grand Army men.

Goldsmith's gentlemen's and ladies' waterproof collars, cuffs and shirt-fronts. Agents and canvassers wanted. James Goldsmith, 744 Broadway; entrance on Astor Place. Lemarchand Boneless Sardines are the choicest im-ported skriines to be had. Acker, Merrall & Condit and Park & Tilford keep them.

MARRIED.

TYNG-SAVAGE-At Calvary Church, Summit, N. J., August 4, 1891, by the Rev. J. F. Butterworth, Morris A. Tyng to Mrs. Louise Hamilton Savage.

Notices of marriages must be indersed with full name and address.

DIED.

BUNKER-At Tscoms, Washington, en Tuesday, August 4, ISBI, Mary Halo, wife of William R. Bunker, and daughter of the late John Sinde.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

DIBBLE-Tuesday morning, August 4, at the house of her brother, Nicolas I, Quackenbos, Menigomery, Orange Co., N. Y., Caroline E., widow of Edward D. Dibble. Friends and reinitives invited to attend funeral services from St. Leo's R. C. Church, East 28th-st., near 5th-sv., New-York City, on Friday, August 7, at 11:39 a. m. Interment Sleepy Hollow, Tarrytown, N. Y. EVERETT—On Wednesday, August 5, at Tenady, N. J., Containce Louise, cidest daughter of Charles J. and Constance F. Everett. Puneral services at her father's residence, at Tenady, on Friday, August 7, at 2:30 p. m.
Carriages will most has Northern Railroad train leaving Chamber-st. ferry, New-York, at 1:20 p. m.
FOX—In Detroit, August 3, Julia McKnight Fox. aged FOX-In Detroit, August 3, Julia McKnight Fox, aged 22, daughter of Alanson J. Fox.

GOODWIN-August 3, Charles E. Goodwin, fr. Funchal services at Arlington, Mass.

HOIPER-Suddenly, at Paskack, N. J., on Tuceday, August 4, Colonel George S. Hopper, of the 10th N. Y. Volunteers and comrade of Sumner Post, No. 24, in his 68th year.

68th year. Notice of fore il hereafter. TOWARD-On Wednesday, August 5, 1891, Annie L. Howard, widow of Edward S. Howard, in the 72d year of her age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral from her inte residence, No. 10 Monroe Place, Brooklyn, on Friday, August 7, at 2 p. m. LAWRENCE-On August 4, at Lawrence, Long Island, Newbold, son of Newbold T, and Isabel Gillet Lawrence,

Funeral private.

McFARLAN-Passed away August 4, Mary C. McFarlan, daughter of the late James McFarlan.

Friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral from her late r sidenes, No. 202 Livingstonest., Brooklyn, on Friday, 7th inst., at 3 p. m.

him. The result of the struggle was that Fitzgerald and the officer were taken to the hospital in an ambulance, the former with a battered head and the latter with his nose almost off.

The cause of the trouble was Maggie Lewis, a young woman who says she is "too strong to work." She lives with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Malley, who supports her by washing. Fitzgerald has been paying attention to Maggie, but last night the two had a war of works in front of the house. The counte went

"A but cleaser, and 11 months.

To bloom in heaven."

Funeral services at the residence of his parents Thursday, August 6, at 12 45 p. m.

Burlal at Roslyn, L. 1.

Burial at Rosiyn, L. I.

ROBY-On Tuesday, August 4, 1891. James T. Roby.

Services at his late residence, 581 10th-st., Brooklyn,

Thur-day evening, August 6, at 8 of-leaf,

BCHAA(SSCHMINT-August 4, at Cancer Hospital, 106th
st. Mise Journe Schauschmidt.

Funeral Grace Church Chantry, Thursday, August 6, 12 o'clock.

SNOWDEN—At her residence, in Stratford, Conn., August 1, 1891, after a lingering illness, entered into eternal life, Mary Laurentini, edest daughter of Arthur H. and the late L. A. Snowden, and cranddaughter of the late tenergal Robert Bogardus, of New-York City.

OWNSEND-August 3, at residence of her son, Eugene de Kay Townsend, Sudbrook, Md., Catherine Louise Douw, widow of the late John F. Townsend, M. D., of ral at St. Peter's Church, Albany, 3 p. m. Thursday, ALENTINE On Tuesday, August 4, 1891, at Wood-bridge, N. J., James Valentine, in the 84th year of his age, uneral services at his inte residence, 2 o'clock p. m. Thursday, August 6. Tains leave foot of Cortlandt and Desbrosses sts., N. Y., 12 o'clock moot.

WEIGHT—On Wednesday morning, August 5, Alice, eldest daugnter of P. D. (decrased) and Sarah E. Weight.

Funeral private.

WOOD—On iso 5th inst., Julia A., beloved wife of Lester E. Wood, age 11 years.

The relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral at her inter residence, No. 343 West 23d st., on Saturday at 11 o'clock a. m. Interment at Woodhawn.

Interment at Woodrawn. Cincinnati and Portsmouth, Ohio, papers please copy. Veterans of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y. The commandant announces win deep regree me was an the 2d list, of our contrade, ex-Licuteum-bet-bound James Price. For more than a quarter of a contint Coulomb Frice was a faithful and distinguished officer of the regiment and this organization.

EDWARD G. ARTHUR, Colonel.

Department of State. Washington. D. C., Aug. 4, 1891.—Information has been received at this Department from Mr. H. Roussen Whitehouse, the Secretary of Legation of the United States at Rome, Italy, of the death, on the 28th of May, 1891, at Flowence, of Carmela Anna Floming, of New-York. Per dispatch No. 231. Dased July 16, 1891.

Special Notices.

New-England Monument Company. Cemetery Memorials in Granite, Bronze and Marble. 1,321 Broadway, opposite Dodge Status.

Postoffice Notice. (Should be rend daily by all interested, as changes may occur at any time).
Letters for foreign countries need not be specially addressed for dispatch by any particular steamer, except when it is desired to send displicates of banking and commercial documents, letters not specially addressed being sent by the fastest vessels available.

Foreign mails for the week ending August 8 will close to the all cases at this office as follows: City assessment valuations. No notice of the Assessors coming preceded them and they expected perhaps that the New-York Tax Commissioners were unprepared to receive them. This is an eld game with the State Assessors, but they found that their annual perfunctory visitation did not take anybody by surprise. Yesterday, somewhat to the astonishment of Assessors Ellis and Wood, the city's representatives.

President Earlier and Commissioners Fettuer and Farris assumed the aggressive and showed them figures to prove that the valuations of the local assessors throughout the State were proportionately far below those placed upon New-York property. The assessments of Mr. Wood's own county, Cattaragus, for instance, were taken up and it was proved that from the local assessed valuation the state Board must have found on examination that the local assessors had made their valuation equal to the preposterous figure of 02 per cent of the actual value, while in fact it was only 53 per cent of the actual value. This, President Earker held, showed the existence of a system of outrageous disposition practised on this city. The figures prepared by Mr. Barker and his associate commissioners and presented vesterday in advance of their argument against the practice in vogue, exhibits a similar condition of dispreportion throughout the several parts of the State, based upon last year's valuations.

The assessed valuations of New-York for 1890 were increased 9 per cent; those of Jefferson Lounty, reduced 27 per cent. The onligorative of their argument against the practice in vogue, exhibits a similar condition of dispreportion throughout the several parts of the State, based upon last year's valuations.

The assessed valuations of New-York for 1890 were increased 9 per cent; those of Jefferson Lounty, reduced 27 per cent. The onligorative of reduction throughout the State was pointed out by the Canada and the control of the same and the control of the same and the control of the same and the control of the first of the control of the